pan dulce conchas

A few notes: The dough is soft and should feel a little tacky. Chill it overnight if your kitchen is warm, it is much easier to shape cold.

SERVINGS: ABOUT 12 TIME: 3 HOURS PLUS RISING SOURCE: A KITCHEN BLOG

DOUGH

3 1/2 cups (455 grams) bread flour

1/2 cup (100 grams) sugar

2 1/4 teaspoons instant yeast

1 teaspoon fine salt

3/4 cup (180 ml) warm milk

2 large eggs

6 tablespoons butter, softened

TOPPING

1/2 cup (65 grams) all-purpose flour

1/2 cup (60 grams) powdered sugar

4 tablespoons butter, softened

1 tablespoon cocoa powder

Make the dough: Whisk the flour, sugar, yeast and salt in a large bowl. Add the warm milk and the eggs and mix until shaggy, then knead in the butter a tablespoon at a time until the dough is smooth and pulls away from the bowl.

First rise: Cover and let it rise until doubled, about 1 1/2 hours.

Divide the dough into 12 pieces, roll each into a ball and set them on two lined baking sheets, leaving room for them to spread as they rise.

Topping: Rub the flour, sugar and butter together until it feels like soft play-dough. Press a disc onto each bun and score it with a shell pattern.

Bake: At 350 degrees F for 18 to 20 minutes, until the bottoms are golden.

Do ahead: The shaped buns keep in the fridge overnight; let them warm up for an hour before baking.
